

RANGELEY PUBLIC LIBRARY

April 2020 Newsletter

Dear Scott,

What a strange time we are living through! As I write this, I am alone here at the library as we have been closed for a couple of weeks in response to the Coronavirus outbreak, and we expect to be closed for a couple more weeks. During this time, I have received many emails notifying us of various offers for free online services. Although I can't begin to tell you about all of them here, I would like to mention a few that may be of interest to you.

One such offer is from Rosetta Stone, an online site for learning languages, which offer students three free months of up to 250 hours of language learning.

Another useful resource is the article "70+ Things to Do With Your Kids While Stuck at Home" by Jay Marks. Not only does this article list some interesting ideas of things for kids to do, but it compiles a lot of fun and educational online resources for toddlers through school-aged kids.

And don't forget the resources you can access through Rangeley Public Library's website including audio books from Tumble Books which they have made available for free during this time. Although Tumble Books is best known for its children's online book collection, they also have an adult book collection which you may find useful during your extra hours at home. Additionally, the Maine State Library has added many more titles to the Maine Download Library. If you have not tried this resource recently, you may be pleasantly surprised at how quickly you can receive access to titles. Both Tumble Books and the Download Library can be found under the resources tab on our website. Feel free to contact me with any questions.

Looking forward to seeing you face-to-face,

Janet Wilson, Director
director@rangeleylibrary.org
